Democratic State Ticket.

FOR GOVERNOR,

DR. LUKE P. BLACKBURN,

Of Jefferson County.

FOR LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR,

HON. JAS. E. CANTILL,

Of Scott County.

FOR ATTORNEY GENERAL,

P. W. HARDIN,

Of Mercer County.

FOR AUDITOR,

GEN. FAYETTE HEWITT,

Of Hardin County.

FOR TREASURER,

HON. J. W. TATE,

Of Franklin County.

FOR SUFF. PUBLIC INSTRUCTION,

PROF. J. DESHA PICKETT,

Of Fayette County.

FOR REGISTER OF THE LAND OFFICE,

CAPT. RALPH SHELDON,

Of Nelson County.

County Ticket.

FOR REPRESENTATIVE,

HON. R. P. HOCKER

LOUISVILLE no longer has an "aching void." The Dental convention "filled it."

The well-known Picture taker, Mr.

J. F. Hardman, will open his Gallery in Rochester, June 24th, and will remain eighteen days. Five pictures for fifty cents.

J. W. ANDERSON, Republican candidate, was elected Criminal Judge of the Fourth Judicial District, by a small majority, vice T. F. Hargis resigned.

The Democratic primary election of McLean county to nominate a candidate for Representative, will take place next Saturday. An exciting time is expected.

The appointment of T. B. Demaree to lecture at Rosine last Sunday, had to be called in because he could not fill engagements made prior to that and make train connection so as to reach there.

He will make another appointment there soon, and will fill it next time certain.

The Lincoln county Bar met in Stanford last Friday and passed preambles and resolutions in regard to the charges against Judge Hargis. They demanded of him a retraction of the charges before he began his duties as Appellate Judge.

This is right, and if he fails to comply with the Bar of every county in the State should follow the example of the Lincoln county lawyers.

Mr. "JACK" PENMAN, a Scotchman, who formerly lived in this county, is fast recovering from the terrible wound he received on the railroad some three months ago, an account of which was published in the HERALD at the time. We met him last Sunday, and he is quite cheerful, notwithstanding the loss of his right arm. He has already learned to write with his left hand, and says he will find some position some where, and make a living. He was a brave soldier in the late war.

We had the pleasure, last Sunday, of spending several hours with Mr. Z. O.

King and family, at their home in Louisville. They are comfortably quartered in a pleasant locality, are enjoying the very best of health and are a happy little family, and one that it gives us pleasure to visit. Mr. and Mrs. King have four children living, three boys and one girl, all of them noted for their sprightly, intelligent appearance. We thank them for their kindness to us, and wish them a continuation of the happiness they are now enjoying, clear down the stream of time.

The Democratic Convention at Columbus, Ohio, last Wednesday, nominated a very strong ticket, with Thomas Ewing at the head for Governor. The platform adopted is an excellent one.

The Democrats will now be able to carry Ohio this Fall, and if a sensible ticket like this is chosen for President, Ohio will go Democratic in 1880.

The nomination of Ewing by the Democrats is the very last thing their political opponents desired. They fear him more than any other man that could have been selected.

JUDGE HARGIS' duty is plain. He ought to take steps in the proper, legal

Mr. E. said about cypher dispatches, that if the Bible was only half as well authenticated as these dispatches, there would not be near as much unbelief in the country as there is. Why this unwillingness for sur on the Holy Bible?

Mr. E. said that in an interview of Mr.

Blackburn, he had said that he was for giving every man, $40. Mr. E. said that he would see that forty dollars, and go a mile better, and rather than appear stingy, would throw in 100 acres of land. Whose fault, or whose land?

Mr. E. said the little bull could not reach it, but that the negro did reach a long way into the snake. Decency, thou art a jewel.

Mr. E. said that he had made his calculations not to be Governor unless he was forced. The doctrine of coercion has long since played out.

Mr. E. said that the Almighty had ordained that nothing but gold and silver should be the medium of exchange, and that this fact had been endorsed by the world for the last 3000 years. Did the Republicans, when they demonetized silver, thwart this omnipotent decree of the Almighty?

Chicago Captured by the Rebels.

(Courier-Journal.)

CHICAGO, June 3, 1879.

The following is the result of the Judicial election yesterday in Cook county:

ity of Dickey (Democrat) over Dent

Constitutional Convention.

It occurs to us that time and experience have shown that our Legislature has too much power delegated by the Constitution. If the people determine to call a convention, the Constitution should be so changed as to prohibit the Legislature from considering bills of purely local and private character.

Ample provision should be made by law for the courts to afford relief in such matters, and the parties to be benefited should pay the costs. A large portion of the time of the Legislature is consumed with this class of legislation.

Take the printed laws passed at any session, and you will find the local and private laws predominate largely over the general laws. For instance, the Session Acts of 1876 is composed of 139 pages of General laws, 25 pages of Resolutions and 1213 pages of Local and private acts. Deprived of jurisdiction of these local matters, the Legislature would have nothing to do but attend to matters of public interest and go home. It would result in saving annually a large sum to the tax payers of the State. In states where this change has been made, it has proven highly satisfactory. Time and experience have certainly shown that it is unwise and unsafe for the Legislature to have power to authorize counties &amp;c. to burden themselves heavily with debt by voting aid to corporations. The condition of several counties of the State is a sufficient indication that protection in the future is necessary. In moments of excitement counties and towns may be induced to vote large subscriptions to Railroad or other corporations, believing from the fair and flattering representations that all will be well, that the investment will prove to be a paying one. The scene changes, hard times come, the property of the corporation is sold to satisfy mortgage debt and counties are deprived of their stock and left with their bonds to pay. To prevent this in the future we should have a clause addvising the Legislature from passing any law authorizing counties or towns to burden themselves with debt by taking stock in Railroad or other corporations. Or if it is permitted at all let the Constitution provide that the amount voted should not exceed a fixed percent (and that should be low) of the value of the real estate in such county or town and it should be further provided that such county or town should not

Can it be that the speech was purely the result of inspiration caught from the stage scenery and Irving's immortal legend, or has the Honorable Walter been engaged in Rip Van Winkle's nap of twenty years? He delved amid the rubbish of the early stages of the late war, virtually denounced the snake and nigger story, also the bull story, and raised a vehement cry of "stop thief" over the cipher dispatches, and interwove the idea of national supremacy in national affairs, and then stepped down and proceeded to the far corner of the room where the colored brethren sat and introductions to them collectively and severally, which latter performance we presumed was intended to illustrate the fact that his party, like the snake about which he told, has "a mighty sight of nigger in it." We will, perhaps, give a more extended analysis of it next week.

As the would be Governor left the court house, Alonzo Taylor, a colored barber here, was heard to murmur—

Lives of great men all remind us

We can make our lives sublime

And departing leave behind us

Footprints on the sands of time.

The Hartford HERALD comes to us this week in a new dress and printed upon a new cylinder power press.

With its usual large amount of home news and the improvement of its typographical appearance it is one of the very best home papers in the State.

[Union Local.]

We congratulate our friends, the Barrett Bros., of the Hartford HERALD, on the acquisition of their new power press.

This is certainly an evidence of prosperity. [Echo.]

"The Power-Press Humbug."

The above heading is clipped from the News, and in answer we would say that the plates was a piece of pine, with no even surface, face not dressed, not exactly type high, and in order to do the work, and do it right, we would be obliged to spend more time than they were willing to pay for. In regard to botches, we have in our possession a job of the half-sheet's warranted, done for the Merima Fan, with twenty-five typographical mistakes. Our printer has done more cut-work than the News man ever saw.

—Mr. E. Small, of the Trade-Palace, after an absence of several months returned home last Monday. His absence has been partly due to sickness in his family. We are glad to know that they have recovered and are in good health again.

—The farmers and stock raisers of the Liberty neighborhood have a good chance now to improve their breed of cattle. The Thoroughbred Bull, Tom Boy, will stand for awhile at John H. Thomas'. He is of the celebrated short stock. See advertisement elsewhere.

—Mrs. Jane Ferguson, wife of D. B. Ferguson, living in the western portion of Grayson County, committed suicide last week, by shooting herself through the head with a pistol. It is supposed that severe ill health, for some time past, had unbalanced her mind, and caused her to commit the rash act. She was a woman well beloved by all that knew her.

Do not forget that Hartford has a new Drug Store. Thomas & Kimbley have opened out a complete assortment of all kinds of Drugs, Medicines, Chemicals, Oils, Paints, Dye Stuffs, &c., usually kept in a retail store. Their stock is new, fresh and of pure drugs. They are now at a fair, honest, legitimate business. Call at their new store, next door to Foster & Hill's grocery, and see for yourself. Mr. F. E. Kimbley, a druggist of long experience, is their prescription clerk, and can be found in the store or his rooms overhead at any time.

—Quite a sensation was occasioned last week, by a genuine Kentucky "first and last" tournament, down by Foster & Hill's grocery, to the great amusement of a large crowd of spectators. We understand the fracas originated from the time honored "dog fight," a considerable amusement in sporting circles, and we suppose the pugilists were not quite satisfied with the result of the fight and Charlie Miller forgot himself and said something that Al Nall didn't like and Al with a quick step waltzed over Charlie's countenance. Score one for Al.

—Dr. Linthicum, of Calhoun, died on the night of the 5th inst., from wounds received at the hands of a negro woman, some two weeks previous to his death. Dr. Linthicum had forbidden her to come on his premises, for causes deemed satisfactory to himself, whereas he got very angry, armed himself with a sharp butcher-knife and attacked the Doctor while out on his stable, cutting him on the hands, arms and face. He kept up for some days, but finally and to succumb. The wound in the face began to ooze, and finally produced death by septicaemia. The woman is in jail. The Doctor was a very popular physician. He was about 43 years old. He leaves a wife and several children.

Barbecue at Hine's Mills.

On Saturday, June 28, 1879, Beau, Armend & Co., will have a first class barbecue at Hine's Mills. Good dinner, abundance of refreshments and music and dancing at reasonable prices. The candidates will be there. Let's all go and have a good time.

Accident.

Mr. C. J. Yager, an attache of this office, happened to a serious accident near South Carrollton, last Saturday evening while buggy riding. He was accompanied by a young lady and while driving down a small hill overturned the buggy, throwing both out. In setting things aright the horse became frightened and backed him into some bushes, pushed him down and ran the buggy over him, injuring one of his legs.

Neighbor John.

Rev. W. G. Benton lectured Monday night to quite a small audience considering the subject of his lecture. He is a fine delineator of character and told his auditors more in one short lecture about Chinese habits, customs and peculiarities than could be obtained so quickly and cheaply in any other way. He lectured last night and to-morrow night. Go and hear him and you will be well entertained and will receive much valuable information.

Wheat Crop Prospects.

From our own observation and from facts gleaned from others we believe that the aggregate yield of the wheat crop for this county will be as large and probably larger than it was ever known to be before. In the first place there is a large acreage, and it bids fair to be a good yield per acre. We have had several specimens brought to our office, among the number these specimens from the farm of Mr. John Barnes of Goshen. One of the Golden Amber, one Boden, another Rock wheat and all are good, in fact better than the crop usually is. We can not starve while cake can be had, and the prospect is good enough.

Butler County Accidents.

We learn from a friend that Mr. J. W. Taylor, of Indian Camp creek, was feeding with a pistol on last Sunday week, when it accidentally "went off" causing a painful wound in his hand. Dr. W. H. Crabb was called in to dress his wound. Jimmie thinks he'll quit the pistol business.

Last Saturday, week, Mr. George Johnson, was thrown from his horse at Fleener'sville. He was severely shocked, and also had one of his heels badly lacerated. Dr. Crabb was also called in this case, and pronounced the injuries not serious.

Cutting Affray in Greenville.

A most unfortunate and deplorable affray occurred Monday afternoon, about an hour after the adjournment of the convention, between Fort Wing, a brother of the late candidate, and Jim Martin, of the Paradise precinct, which resulted in the stabling in the left side, immediately over one of the floating ribs of Martin, by Wing. Martin was taken to Mann & Rice's hotel, and his wound dressed by Dr. J. G. Bohannon, assisted by Drs. Hubbs and Townes, of South Carrollton, who happened to be present. Wing waived an examining trial and gave bond in $200 for his appearance at the October term of Circuit Court. The reports concerning the affray are many and conflicting, and we can vouch for none of them. The rumor that was circulated later in the evening that Charlie Wing did the deed was most untrue and damagingly false, as he knew nothing of it until the deed was done. Charlie Wing and friends deeply regret the whole matter. Martin's wound, which was inflicted with a pen-knife, is a serious, though not necessarily dangerous one. —Muhlenberg Echo.

A Successful Surgical Performance.

Noah Herrel, a man about 77 years old, living near Rockport, in this county, has been seriously afflicted with a cancer on one of his hands, and the prospect for recovery was a gloomy one, and a slow and painful death stared him in the face. Dr. C. W. Layton, of Rockport, finally consented to amputate the arm, which he did on Tuesday, last week, performing the whole without any assistant surgeon. We learn that the work was done quickly and scientifically, so much so that the patient is doing quite well, notwithstanding his extreme age. Dr. Layton has had but little experience in surgery and his success in this case shows him to be possessed of the necessary information, skill and nerve to carry it into practice. Uncle Noah is now good, we hope, for another quarter of a century.

Graduated.

Miss Lizzie Walker, daughter of our distinguished fellow citizen, Hon. E. D. Walker, graduated at Lymnland Institute on Thursday last week. She read an essay on the occasion, that we learn from those present, did her great credit. She received the gold medal the only one awarded for superior scholarship and faultless deportment. Miss Lizzie is a combination of beauty, intellect, goodness of heart and sweetness of disposition rarely, if ever, met with. May all her bright dreams and fanciful visions of happiness that her imagination brought to view in the vista of the future on that, her commencement day, be fully realized, is the wish of her numerous friends.

Tobacco Market.

The receipts and sales of this week have been the largest of the season—prices have been very well sustained in the main; old medium leaf was a shade easier toward the close of the week. The other grades remained firm. Considerable tobacco is being put on the market in bad condition and of course does not command full figures. Care should be taken to prize in good order.

The sales for the week 1845 bbls. Sales since June 1st 22,665 bbls. Receipts this week 1670 bbls.

Yours truly,
SHERLEY & GLOVER.

In Memoriam.

Horace Taylor, son of Blackstone and Elizabeth Taylor, was born in Ohio county Nov. 21st, 1832, and departed this life in Bandera county, Texas.

The subject of this notice emigrated to Western Missouri in early manhood, where he continued in prosperous business until the breaking out of the late war. He entered the Confederate service and followed its fortunes until peace was made, after which he came back to the home of his boyhood and remained for several years, filling, for a length of time, the position of Deputy Sheriff of Ohio county. His health failing him, he went to Texas, and was married in that State to Miss Mollie Henry, April 20, 1874, who, with two little children, Lela and Byron, is left to mourn his departure. Many hearts in Kentucky were made sad when the news of the death of Horace Taylor came from the far-off Lone Star State. As a youth he was noted for his nobility of character and for his high personal bearing. In his more mature years, during his sojourn in this State, he won the love and admiration of all who knew him. It was the fortune of the writer to follow him in the Deputy Sheriffship, and he well remembers the many expressions of commendation and confidence coming from persons of every class, in regard to Horace Taylor. "He was an honest, noble man," universally came from the lips of those with whom he had associated, and transacted business. I have thought I never knew a truer man, a warmer friend, a nobler specimen of manhood. Brave, generous, kind, sympathetic and tender, fixed in purpose, firm in principle and unwavering to what he thought was right. He scorned a little act and pandered not to those who would compromise principle.

But his career is ended; his journey on earth is done. His body rests quietly in the Bandera cemetery, but his spirit we trust, is in the "realms of the blest."

His bereaved widow and children in Texas have the warmest sympathy of his numerous friends and acquaintances here.

"Peace to his memory."

Beaver Dam, June 3, '79.

My dear old friends:

I do believe it has bin on-to ten years since I hear a word from you. Good-bye, my dear old friends, I don't want to let you go, but I must. I don't want to let you go, but I must. I don't want to let you go, but I must.

I don't want to let you go, but I must. I don't want to let you go, but I must. I don't want to let you go, but I must.

We wish names of all intending to come, forwarded to T. E. Richey and he will endeavor to make for their accommodation while here.

We ask members of the order seeing this notice to read it in open lodge that all may have an idea of the prospects for a grand rally and be encouraging to come. ## Somebody's Child.

Somebody's child is dying—dying with the flash of hope on his young face and an undimmed yearning to live and take an honored place in the world beside the companions of his youth. And somebody's mother is thinking of the time when that dear face will be hidden away no ray of hope can brighten it—when her heart and home will be left desolate—because there was a cure for consumption. Reader, if the child be your neighbor, take this comforting word to the mother's heart before it is too late. Tell her that consumption is curable, that men are living and laboring and conquering, and the physicians pronounced incurable at the age of twenty-five, because one lung had been almost destroyed by the disease. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a most efficient alternative for separating the scrofulous matter from the blood and lungs, and imparting health to the system. It has cured hundreds of consumptives.

A Dead Woman Bottled.

Cremation, or the method of burning our bodies after death, created some little stir in this country, but met with very little favor. To place our child, our mother or father into a hot oven, and stand and gaze at its rapid crisping, burning and conversion into a few ounces of ashes, is, in our estimation, cruel and sinful. Now, ladies, you who are suffering from some female complaint, who have become irregular, or have some pains and aches, hysterics, nervousness and general prostration, we advise you to use English Female Balm, and claim a new lease upon your lives. It is a wonderful female regulator, and also a quick and powerful tonic, curing chronic cases in an incredible short time.

TOO MUCHER DOCTOR.

Yang Ling says: "My head aches, my bowels bind fast, I can eat nothing, and no longer in shirt. I no sleep, and I make no money. The medicine man, the doctor they call him, he come and say open mouth, poke out tongue, he feel my arm, he cure a piece of paper, send it to the medicine shop. I take 'em all, little round fellows, they pain me and I no sleep. My head still aches, and my bowels bind fast, and I no get well. I send to the medicine shop one half dollar and get me one bottle of Balle's Saline Aperient. I take a little when it bites up, and my head
